#63-Any facilities/activities for "on-post" soldiers that does not promote/serve alcohol beverages.

I do not participate in on-post activities any longer, however, they are definitely a plus/must for active-duty soldiers and their families (and to a large degree for our retired members). I could not imagine having any or all of the programs mentioned be curtailed or eliminated and lessen the quality of life for personnel stationed here. We need well-trained, motivated, and well-taken care of forces and the MWR plays a major role in serving our country, it must survive and be supported to the "nth" degree.

Overall, like most other DAC employees, very little information is provided to inform us as to what we are eligible to use, limitations, priority listings (Soldiers first, family members, retirees, DACs?) on the facility. It could be this information is readily available when we go to a MWR facility but it would be nice to know prior to showing up. I understand these facilities are primarily for the Soldier but if DAC are eligible, lets not hide it. The vast majority of DAC employees I know have little or no idea as to what MWR truly offers them.

The Playgroup on Post (hosted from the ACS Center) is great. First, it doesn't cost a dime. Second, my kid has the opportunity to meet with other kids. Third, the person responsible for this program organizes field trips (e.g. Zoo, Farm) and other activities. Great service!! I would like to see more family events like the walk on post (Kelly Park) during the month of the child ("Stop violence against kids") in April. It was well organized and all the children there had lots of fun. It would be really great to see more family oriented events in Fort Bliss.

While I am unable to be directly involved, I believe local MWR is doing an excellent job for troops and military community at Ft. Bliss and surrounding military installations. There are many more MWR services available than when I was active military and I am not familiar enough with what is offered vs what is available to comment constructively. When my retired AF son visits, he visits the on-post gym every morning, and reports it is a great facility.
Any thing MWR can do to help these young people cope with the situation today is required.

The post is not in our usual daily path of travels. Until quite recently both my husband and myself were employed full time. Leisure time was scarce, and we did not care to use it in driving to the post. However, we plan to both be retired completely within the next year, and may use more of the services.

I would like to see RV rental become available.

We greatly appreciate the services offered and are very much aware of the importance to the active duty community.

I believe that MWR activities and facilities should be improved to present a fun and calming atmosphere. There should be more announcements made to the public about events or ticket sales on events. Better quality in services and entertainment should be a priority. Times and days for the clubs should change a little to serve more personnel. MWR is a great program when people hear about it so let people know what is out there for them to use.

Maybe there could be a mailing of all the programs such as the ceramics class sent out to the soldiers wives so they know when it is and how much and if anyone can attend or if it is by rank. Also I think it would be a good idea to have a self-defense class for the spouses to take so that they can learn to defend themselves too in case they are ever in a situation that they need to defend themselves from an attacker.

The CDC here is terrible. FRGs are wonderful. The only places here that really offer any kind of cultured activities that my husband and I would be interested in occurs at the Officer's Club and since he isn't an officer, we can't participate. Regardless of the fact that my husband is still junior enlisted and I am a fulltime student in college, we should still be able to live the same kind of lifestyle that we had prior to the military. We come from a big city where there is plenty to do and now we are in El Paso, were they hardly speak english, so it makes it hard to do anything off post, but we are segregated against because of rank only. The preceeding ideas of how junior enlisted families are or just enlisted in general, limits people of culture and civility. We are very upset about the post we live at and the options that we have here. Also, after having a soldier sexually assault me here on post, I attempted to use to advocacy programs and counseling options offered as well as getting the Bn FRG to try to help find somewhere or someone for me to get help...no success! All of the help for victims available here on post are no help at all. It took me well over a month from the incident to find someone to talk to and that was only after exhausting all of my options with MWR and Tricare. It was a terrible experience on top of a tragic event. A person weaker than myself would have crumbled worse than I did. So I think it is fair to say that I am not very happy with the MWR here at Fort Bliss. They really have nothing to offer my family and we end up having to use services that are less than adequate off post or from some other source because we can't depend on anything MWR related here.

FT Bliss MWR programs are good, obviously very hard to work out something for everyone. My #1 concern would be the renovation of the Officer's Club. Bldg, facilities, and furnishings are outdated and in great need up remodeling. Centennial Club (for NCOs) on Biggs Field is vastly improved and much newer. Would very much like to see something even 50% of that for the Officers/Civilian Spouses/Retirees who support the O Club system.

As of right now on Fort Bliss there is not enough activities being offered for this age group. I would also love to see more swimming pools on post for the children as well. Right now all they have is 2 on post. In the summer time the pools they have are being over crowded because the only pool you can have on post if you live on post is a kiddy pool which will not surfice for teenagers which makes them go to the pools onpost and just haveing 2 is not enough for a post of this size.

I feel that the Youth Center is not run as fluidly as required and that it does not meet the needs of the children or the parents. There was to be a mandatory "Good Sportsmanship" class for the parents of the youth participating in sports and it has not been implemented yet. I found this past season of basketball to be somewhat disappointing because of the PARENTS of the children. They were heckling and yelling at the kids and the referees and were all out JERKS and this was the NON-COMPETITIVE LEAGUE!!! Most of these children were new to the sport and it was very disappointing to have them behave in such a pathetic and unsportsmanlike way. One coach in particular, Steve Horsley, was incredibly unsportsmanlike. After the game had ended, I was speaking with the referees and commented on how difficult it must be to listen to the PARENTS. Mr. Horsley, who is over 6 feet tall, came over and "got in my face" asking, "And WHO are YOU?!!" I am a petite woman, 5' 1", and it didn't take him "getting in my face" to be intimidating. This experience has left a bad taste in the mouths of my family members and if Mr. Horsley is coaching ANY sport on this post, we will immediately be withdrawing. Had I have been thinking clearly and unafraid of Mr. Horsley, I would have pressed charges on the spot. Our coach, Mr. Todd Stevenson, was an incredibly positive role model for our children. His impact on this community deserves to be noted.

I would like to see more opportunities for kids that are between ages of 12-16. They are too young to work and have too much time to look for trouble. The area Recreation Centers and YWCA's only take them until they are 12. The Youth Center is only open in the evenings. The only option they have on post is to bag groceries. They have many talents and I think they are wasted or not acknowledged.

MWR services are an exceptionally convenient alternative to off-post services. However, most MWR services currently offered at this installation significantly lack in customer service and selection, therefore they lose out on a great deal of potential revenue from my family and many friends.

Specifically, menu selection and quality of food at the clubs is substandard. The club system needs an extensive overhaul. The project I would most like to see at Fort Bliss in the next five years is a new Officers' Club; the current facility is out of date and the décor is an embarrassment. The Centennial Club isn't much better, the only thing it has going for it is the fact that it is a newer facility. A new Officers' Club (in the same location or very nearby if that isn't a viable option) with updated furnishings and a more comprehensive menu selection would encourage my family to become members and increase the frequency in which we dine there; we spend quite a bit of money dining out, nearly every weekday for lunch, and at least 1-2 times per week for dinner. The current club format is losing all of our business as we instead patron nearby off post establishments due to atmosphere and lack of dining options, eating on post only when pressed for time or attending an official function.

I feel MWR is a great out reach, but we don't use on post activities that much.

Living off post, it has been difficult if not completely impossible to find out about much of the activities on post. Communication while my husband was attending his most recent school was totally nonexistent. Now that he has been assigned to a unit, he forwards the e-mails he gets to our personal e-mail address so that I can read them, otherwise I would not know about anything that was going on at all. I have lived here for nine months and have never been contacted by anyone from FRG, ACS, or any other on post organization. My husbands unit wives don't even have a coffee group where I could find out information. This has been very frustrating after being overseas and having all of these things to keep everyone involved.

MWR IS A MAIN PLACE FOR OUR YOUNG ENLISTED AND YOUNG OFFICERS TO GET OUT AND ENJOY LIFE, AND IS FILLS THE GAP THAT THE ARMY USE TO OFFER TO ITS SOLDIERS. WHICH NAF HAS TAKEN AWAY FROM THE YOUN SOLDIERS TO KEEP THEM OCCUPIED AFTER DUTY OURS ON MILITARY CONTROLLED AREAS.....

BUT WITH BUDGETTING OF THE ARMY MWR IS A MUST.....

THANKS TO MWR LIFE IS BETTER THAN IT WOULD BE WITH OUT IT.....

Since the military housing for Senior Enlisted members is located all the way out in the North Hills section of town, we as part of the military community are not provided with school-age services. While those on main post have access to the excellent before and after school programs available to the elementary schools in that area, we must rely on civilian daycare facilities to take care of our children. We are forced to locate, evaluate, and trust these facilities while all other members living in post housing are secure in the knowledge that they are receiving top-notch care through military centers and that their children are receiving benefits that our children are denied due to our housing assignment. I think there is a great chasm in the equality of services for the senior enlisted ranks.

WE need better housing and more activities for the younger children, most wives cant go into the gym because there is no daycare and it is too much of a hassle to drop your child off at on post daycare for the little while you would be in the gym.

We are new to this post. We only got here in mid January. My husband is part of the brand new unit, so there isn't much FRG going on yet, or at least that I know of. We live off post, and I can't say that I hear much about things going on on-post. I would like to meet more spouses and families.

I have a strong disagreement with the way that civilian employees tend to treat soldiers. It is truly upsetting to see a civilian employee "bite the hand that feeds them". Being a civilian myself I find it completely unacceptable how civil servants, key word there, treat the active duty personel. I am tired of standing behind my wife and watching the eyes rolling and the sighs of employees as they are so put out to have to answer questions and do their job. Granted it is not fair to bunch the whole, but it happens enough for me to not utilize the services. I would rather pay someone who wants to help me then get an attitude for free.

I feel that I may not be the best person to be surveyed at this time. We are at the end of our Army career and we are trying to be more active on the civilian side of life. Through out our career, the activities and events offered by MWR have been very vital to our quality of life, especially when we were station in Germany. I hope that the MWR will continue to be there for the military families. My daughter is thinking of joining the service and I have a nephew that has just joined the army, so it is important for the future generations of military personnel to have your services. Thank you for being there.

I would like to know more about the activities that are available. I am a quilter and would love to learn woodworking skills.
